EDUCATION FOR SUSTAINABLE P3ACE

Georg Arnhold Visiting Research
Professorship Program

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS 2014/2015

BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

The Georg Arnhold Program aims to promote research into education for sustainable peace. Its focus lies particularly on educational media and curricula in post-conflict or transitional societies, although Western democracies are obviously also called upon to develop new concepts to maintain and to stabilize peace within society. The program responds to the rising demand for grassroots approaches, as well as those that are sustainable and regionally-sensitive, to establishing or strengthening cultures of peace and sustainable development – key challenges for present and future generations.

The program thus strives

- To foster the international exchange of ideas among both established and early-career scholars,
- To generate recommendations for organizations and stakeholders in the field of peace building as well as for policy makers, and
- To strengthen connections between academia and civil society.

THE GEORG ARNHOLD VISITING RESEARCH PROFESSORSHIP

- Is awarded annually for a stay of between three and six months in Braunschweig.

ON THE RIGHT

Portrait Georg Arnhold:

THE PATRON: GEORG ARNHOLD

The program is named for Georg Arnhold (1859–1926), a German banker, patron of the arts and committed pacifist. He and his brother were the proprietors of the Bankhaus Gebr. Arnhold (Arnhold Brothers) in Dresden. This family bank provided capital for burgeoning industrial firms and was, until its “Aryanization” in 1935, one of the largest private banks in Germany. The Arnholds blended their economic success with generous support for the arts, sciences and social welfare. Moreover, Georg Arnhold became involved in the German Peace Society and was active in the Esperanto movement.

THE BENEFACTOR: HENRY H. ARNHOLD

Georg Arnhold’s grandson, the American benefactor Henry H. Arnhold, instituted the guest professorship at the Georg Eckert Institute to honor the legacy of his grandfather:

“Throughout his life my grandfather focused on the question of how societies can achieve lasting peace. There are indeed many parallels between his life’s work and that of the Georg Eckert Institute: With the values and the education that we teach our children and youth today, we are shaping tomorrow’s society.”
