Privacy Policy

I agree that the Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Friedens- und Konfliktforschung e.V. as the responsible body may process and use the personal data collected in the membership application and SEPA direct debit mandate, such as surname, first name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, current employment, reference to peace and conflict research and (in the case of admission to the AFK) the bank details, exclusively for the purpose of membership administration and the collection of contributions by the association. The transmission of parts of this data to the publisher of the Journal for Peace and Conflict Research and cooperation partners in the context of the AFK Colloquium takes place only for the purpose of sending the journal to the member and for organizing the reduction of the participation fee for the AFK Colloquium. Data will not be transferred to third parties outside the publisher and the respective cooperation partner during the AFK Colloquium. Data will also not be used for advertising purposes.

Every member has the right, within the framework of the provisions of the Federal Data Protection Act/General Data Protection Regulation, to information about the personal data stored about them by the responsible body.

After resignation and fulfillment of the contribution obligation as well as expiry of the legal deadlines, the data of the member, which are collected in the membership application, are archived in the archive of the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung. This is done for scientific and historical research purposes in accordance with GDPR Art. 5, para. 1, lit. e). The account data collected will be deleted. The withdrawing member has the right to request the deletion of all personal data.
